» G. Love & Special Sauce

[16] Sunday

Philly favorite G. Love & Special Sauce will play for the hometown crowd at 8 p.m. on the Festival Pier. The band is touring in support of its new album, Superhero Brother. Tickets are on sale at LiveNation.com.

[1] Friday

Classic Theater

There are only three more days to catch Les Misérables under the Walnut Street Theatre's lights. See Victor Hugo's tale of a French fugitive battling for his freedom during the Napoleonic wars at 8 p.m. Get your tickets at WalnutStreetTheatre.org.

[2] Saturday

Photography Lessons

Capture the beauty of summer with an Introduction to Outdoor Photography and Technique class at the REI store in Marlton, NJ. Dress for a hike and be prepared to learn about everything from camera functions to shooting dynamic photos. Go to REI.com to find out more about the class.

[4] Monday

Ansel Adams Restrospective

Go see the Philadelphia Museum of Art's exhibit titled "Transcending the Literal: Photographs by Ansel Adams from the Collection." More than 40 photographs, most of them lesser-known pieces, will be on display through Aug. 17. Visit PhilaMuseum.org for details.

[5] Tuesday

The Boys of Summer

Tonight, baseball isn't just for the boys. The Phillies play the Florida Marlins at 7:05 p.m. and there will be massages, drink specials and more for the ladies. It's also stitch 'n' pitch night, so you can work on your fall scarf during the seventh-inning stretch. Get your tickets at Phillies.com.

[6] Wednesday

Lunchtime Concert

Listen to classic rock tunes on your midday break during a Gil Brewster Band show at the Curtis Center. The concert is part of the Center City District Lunch Time concert series. Go to CenterCityPhila.org to find more dates.

[7] Thursday

Jam Session with Jack Johnson

Camden is turning into a beach bum's haven tonight when Jack Johnson, Rogue Wave and Neil Halstead take over the Susquehanna Bank Center. The doors open at 5 p.m., but the show won't start until 7 p.m. Go to LiveNation.com to buy tickets.
